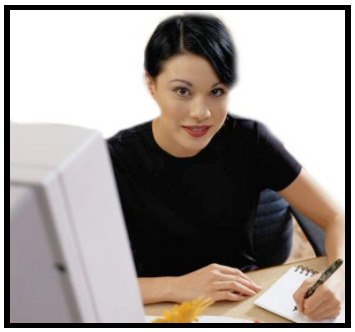
FALL 2008 - NEW THEME-BASED COMPOSITION SECTIONS

First Year Composition Courses

Open to all Comp 105 and 106 Students

Community-Based Writing Sections:

Fall 2008 Schedule
Comp 105 - 21	T/Th 11:30 - 12:45	Prof. DeGenaro billdeg@umd.umich.edu
Comp 105 - 23	T/Th 1:05 - 2:20	Prof, DeGenaro billdeg@umd.umich.edu
Comp 106-009	T/Th 1:05 - 2:20	Prof. Rohan erohan@umd.umich.edu



- Use research skills to learn about real community issues and use writing skills to get involved in addressing community needs.
- Take your writing beyond the confines of campus and beyond the genre of the academic essay.
- Take part in hands-on learning.
- Get valuable experience you can include on your resume.
- Learn how to use writing to be more reflective, more civically engaged, and more knowledgeable about the world around you.

Multi-Media Writing Sections:

Fall 2008 Schedule
Comp 105 - 008	MWF 11:30 - 12:20	Prof. Woodland woodland@umd.umich.edu
Comp 106 - 007	T/Th 9:55 - 11:10	Prof. Yerks amyerks@umd.umich.edu
Comp 106-008	T/Th 11:30 - 12:45	Prof. Meyers cmeyers@umd.umich.edu

- Compose texts not only with words but also with images, sounds and video.
- Take your writing to the electronic contexts of podcasts, web pages and videos.

- Explore the narrative strategies of computer games and virtual worlds.
- Learn about how to produce digital documents that communicate the results of research creatively and persuasively.