

You need not worry about any financial problems. In Timbuktu, success is insured. The residents of the city are all extremely wealthy. The strangers who settle here are often the most prosperous. Considering that a quarter of the population is made of students or scholars, it is obvious that Timbuktu is a superb place to get an education. This is a wonderful city to learn and train for a new trade, or just find a new job in your current field. Either way, there are many opportunities for work here. Timbuktu's abundance of grain, animals, milk, and sweet water also helps inhabitants live the good life.

With all these wonderful reasons to move to Timbuktu, what is keeping you away? Do not let a petty desert stand in the way of instant success and contentment. With Timbuktu's strong economy and culture, there is no way you can lose. So, I beg you, come to Timbuktu and join me in your new life.

Sincerely,

Zoe Jazwinski
